How Tubinette works

Tubinette is used to hold dressings securely in place and to protect clothing from ointments and creams.

Tubinette is made from 100% viscose and is intended for use where dressings have to be changed frequently.

Benefits of Tubinette

- Holds dressings comfortably and securely in place
- Quick and easy to apply, with or without applicator
- Range of six sizes makes it easy to retain dressings anywhere on the body
- Particularly suitable for use with frequent dressing changes

Material properties

- 100% viscose

Areas of use

Tubinette holds dressings securely and comfortably in place, without constriction or compression.

The tubular construction makes application quick and easy, particularly when using a tubular bandage applicator.

The range of sizes available makes it possible to retain a dressing on any part of the body. The convenience and low cost of stockinettes make them highly cost-effective.
